SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE.

Excellent Discourse Delivered Yesterday Afternoon by Elder James E. Talmage.

LIBERALITY OF "MORMONISM."

Negative Goodness Not Sufficient for Salvation-Claims of the Latter-day Saints.

For the first time in three weeks the Tabernacle was thrown open to the public yesterday afternoon, the regular services being held at 2 o'clock. The meeting was largely attended and the speaker was Elder James E. Talmage who delivered an excellent discourse dealing mainly with the liberality of "Mormonism." President John R. Win-

The chair sang the hymn; Author of faith, eternal word, Whose spirit breathes the active flame.

Prayer was offered by Patriarch An-The choir further sang:

Behold the Great Redeemer die, A broken law to satisfy.

Beloid the Creat, reduced the Abroken law to satisfy.

Elder James E. Talmage said it was a i easing and inspiring sight to see so many gathered together for public worship, and while he doubted not there were some present who had perhaps ome out of curiosity, such also were reartily welcome and it was the speaker's hope that their curiosity, in so far is it pertained to the salvation of the ouls of men, would be fully satisfied.

Elder Talmage said he had always seen much impressed with the liberality of "Mormon" doctrines. In this onnection he cited the article of faith chick sets forth that "we claim the rivilege of worshipping God accordage to the dictates of our conscience, and allow all men the same privilege, it them worship how, where or what hey may." This, said the speaker, was Mormon" doctrine. There was nother the second of the all the second of the little second of the little second of the little second of the little second of the second of "doctrine. There was noth-erant in it. It accorded to all right to worship as they saw demanding the same privilege eaker said that the Latetr-day were ever ready to bid Godseep who were trying to do right. They to all who were trying to do right. They did not believe, however, in the doctine of heaven and hell in the sense that they were believed in by the Christian world. They taught, said, he, that hell was not a place but a condition. Elder Talmage said there were many good men and women in this world, people who were negatively good, in that they did very little that was wrong. But their goodness was not sufficient for they failed to comply with the compandments and therefore left undone the things that they should ndone the things that they should ave done. This was beautifully illusted in the case of the young man he approached the Savier and asking what He would have him. The Savier answered him and the commandments," high the young man replied, "all these church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints as the only Church upon the earth holding the Priesthood of Al-mighty God. To hold such a view, however, was not intolerance. While the Latter-day Saints believed their Church to be the only Church upon the earth, they did not deprive others from holding spilar views concerning their arth, they did not deprive others from olding similar views concerning theirs, t was a tenet of the "Mormon" faith hat the canon of scripture was not all, but that God revealed Himself to-ay as He had done anciently. The lible, good as it was, was not sufficient, for it did not meet fully the require-ments of the present day. A few de-cades ago the doctrine of continued rev-elation was considered a heresy, but at present there were those among the thinkers of the day, who were willing to admit that it was purely scientific and philosophical. The speaker contended for aggressive

The speaker contended for aggressive goodness, an effort to do as commanded by the Father in all things. Morality was all very well, said he, but it was not religion, for religion exacted compliance with God's laws and brought forth a certain well defined reward, even that of cternal life.

Elder Talmage veferred at some

Elder Talmage referred at some ength to the doctrine of toleration and ald that it had always characterized e word of God. True, there were many intolerance, even among delices of Intolerance, even among a elect of God, but in nearly every intoce these were rebuked, thus accounting the God-given right of free elevy. In this connection the speakerelated a legend concerning the interance of Abraham, the friend of d. Consistency, said he, was another nulrement of the Church of Christ. The choir sang the anthem, "Lift up to voice in singing," and the benedic n was pronounced by Elder Andrew

WAS NEAR TO DEATH.

Morphine Takes Mrs. Burns Very Close To the Edge of the Grave.

Mrs. May Burns, 235 west Fifth South street, came very close to death's door on Saturday night, by taking a large dose of morphine, supposedly with suicidal intent. She had been conducting a rooming house at the place named, but had not een very successful and was despondent over her failure.

She was discovered by roomers on Saturday night, but at first it was thought she was asleep. Efforts were made to rouse her, and when these failed, the inmates became alarmed and sent for a physician. The latter worked over her for a long time before there was any indication of recovery. The woman was kept awake all night by heroic measures, and it is believed that Indicate Improper Diet, Usually Due to Coffee.

One of the common symptoms of coffee poisoning is the bad dreams that spoil what should be restful sleep. A man who found the reason says:

"Formerly I was a slave to coffee. I was like a morphine flend, could not sleep at night, would roll and toss in my bed and when I did get to sleep was disturbed by dreams and hobgoblins. would wake up with headaches and feel bad all day, so nervous I could not at-tend to business. My writing looked like bird tracks. I had sour belchings from the stomach, indigestion, heart-burn and palpitation of the heart, constipation, irregularity of the kidneys,

Indeed, I began to feel I had all the troubles that human flesh could suffer but when a friend advised me to leave off coffee I felt as if he had insulted me. I could not bear the idea, it had such a hold on me and I refused to believe It the cause.

"But it turned out that no advice was ever given at a more needed time for I finally consented to try Postum and with the going of coffee and the coming of Postum all my troubles have gone and health has returned. I eat and sleep well now, nerves steadled down and I well now, herves steadled down and I write a fair hand (as you can see), can attend to business again and rejoice that I am free from the monster Coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Batle Creek, Mich.

Ten days trial of Postum in place of coffee will bring sound, restful, refreshing sleep. There's a reason.

CONFERENCE OF THE JORDAN STAKE

Other Speakers From Salt Lake Also Addressed the Assembled Saints -Excellent Advice.

The quarterly conference of the Jordan stake of Zion was held at Riverton, Salt Lake county, Saturday and Sunday, May 14 and 15, commencing on Saturday at 10 a. m., President Hyrum Goff presiding. There were in attendance of the General Authorities Elder Hyrum M. Smith of the Apostles; Bishop O. P. Miller of the presiding Bishopric, and Elder Joseph E. Taylor of Salt Lake City, the presidency of the stake, High Counselors, Bishops and officers of the stake organizations and a fair representation of the Saints. The choir and congregation sang "Now let us rejoice," etc. Prayer was offered by Elder Albert Glover. The choir same by Elder Albert Glover. The choir sang "The morning breaks the shadows flee." President Hyrum Goff opened the conference by giving a general report of the condition of the stake. The Saints, he said, are, as a rule, doing their duties: yet in some instances there is a lack of attendance at sacrament meetings. The presidency and High Counselors visit among the people from time to time and find many improvements especially in the Elders' quorum and among the Lesser Priestheod. The stake organizations are doing good work.

Elder Joseph E. Taylor recalled some instances and conditions in the development of the wards in this stake, and dwelt upon the duties of the acting teachers. The efficiency and faithfulness of the teachers are great factors in promoting the work of the Lord. Elder Taylor spoke of the characteristics of Joseph Smith, Brigham Young and other leaders of the church showing the poculiar fitness of each for the position they had filled. Thus the teachers should adapt themselves to the conditions they may meet and with a view only of saving souls, to use prudence and wisdom in dealing with matters that pertain to the welfare of the Saints.

Saints.

Bishop O. P. Miller spoke of the authority of the Holy Priesthood as restored by the Lord through His servants of former days. This Priesthood should be honored and those who hold it should not be adversely criticised. The Gospel can be very effectually preached by the proper actions and good examples of the Saints.

Elder Lawrence Beckstead, who had lately returned from a mission, bore a strong testimony to the truth of the work of the Lord.

The choir rendered an author. "Onco."

The choir rendered an anthem, "Open Wide Ye Gates," Benediction was pro-nounced by Elder Robert Ellwood.

Eider W. W. Riter contrasted the pre-calling conditions with thos of early lays showing how the Lord had blessed. His people. The Latter-day Saints ger rally are satisfied and are sustaining leaders better than ever otherwise doing their duties, yet there is great room for improvement. The Saints should come together in their public assemblies and sustain their leaders, thus becoming better acquainted to partake of each other's spirit, beome more united and receive the in-piration and the word of God. Elder Hyrum M. Smith said that Elder Hyrum M. Smith said that those who attend their meetings with a prayerful heart and for the purpose of being fed the bread of life, will rarely be disappointed. One of the evidences of the truth of this work is that the Elders of the Church can and do call attention to errors, immorality and sin of any kind, fearlessly and openly without any danger of the congregations leaving them or apostatising. This is not the Gospel of the world. The Latterday Saints know the truth even when necessary to administer rebuke. If we will remember the Redeemer and His great work, we shall do no wrong. great work, we shall do no wrong. Learn to love the work of God and it will become a pleasure to labor in it. The choir sang an anthem and bene-diction was offered by Elder Joseph J.

Williams. SUNDAY, 10 A. M.

President Francis M. Lyman of the quorum of the Twelve Apostles was present. The choir and congregation sang "Come let us anew." Prayer was offered by Elder Charles M. Nokes. The choir rendered, "Come We That Love the Lord." The following Bishops reported their respective wards; W. C. Burgon of Union; Thomas Blake of South Jordan; James S. Crane of Harriman; William C. Crump of Bluft Dale, and James P. Jensen of Crescent. Elder James Jensen felt that the Saints in this stake are greatly blessed Saints in this stake are greatly blessed notwithstanding some temporal disadvantages reported from the smaller wards. He also dwelt upon the labors of the acting teachers and the proper manner of receiving them into our homes, and encouraged all to keep the commandments of God.

Elder J. W. W. Fitzgerald said the object of every true Latter-day Saint should be to learn how to live. By coming together and listening to the ser-ing together and listening to the ser-vants of God expounding the Gospe vants of God expounding the Gospel while nothing startling new is taught yet principles and truths are presented in new lights under the influence of the Holy Spirit. It is not the striking brilliancy of the Saints of God that make them great but rather their humility and faithfulness to God and His Elder Francis M. Lyman said in substance, that no one in perfect health and strength, and who could otherwise be present at the meetings of the Saints are excusable from so doing. All should be present. The Lord is always present. He does not excuse Himself, nor can we do without him in the perform-ance of our duties. The Saints should ance of our duties. The Saints should live the principles and doctrines of the Gospel and acquire appetites for knowledge and desires for good works, for reasoning, studying and carrying out the things, that will make us pleasing in the sight of the Lord. The Lord knows all about us and is pleased when we do right, where we exalt Him. Every man who is ordained an Elder holds all the authority lesser than that holds all the authority lesser than that office, thus an Elder may labor as a Deacon. Those holding the lesser Priesthood and even the mothers may in an emergency lay hands on the sick. The duty of a Teacher is the duty of every man holding the Priesthood; namely, to watch over the Church always and be with and strengthen them and see that there is no iniquity in The choir rendered an anthem, "Zion Awake." Bishop John A. Egbert of-fered the benediction.

The sacrament was administered under the direction of the Bishopric of Riverton ward, during which Elder W. W. Riter addressed the conference upon the practical analysis. addressed the conference upon the prac-tical application of the principles of the Gospel in this life as well as preparing for the life to come; drawing vivid pic-tures from life showing the absurdity of the so-called social functions of to-day and the fallacy and wrong of run-ning in debt except in cases of extreme pacessity.

Elder Hyrum M. Smith endorsed the emarks of Elder Riter, and admon-shed the Latter-day Saints not to be-come contaminated with the bad things nankind, for the betterment and up-lifting of the world.

The general authorities of the Church and of the stake were presented and sustained. Elder Lyman continued his discourse on Teachers by saying the should be treated as confidential spirit usi advisers, and should themselves seek to become such. Probably the de-sire to some of those Teachers to see sire to some of those Teachers to see that there is no iniquity in the Church sometimes causes them to look upon the dark side of life. Seek to keep the weaknesses of our brethren and sisters from the public, help them to repent, if possible without bringing reproach upon them. Let all offenses be tried according to their passive and condition. upon them. Let all offenses be tried according to their nature and condition, exercising the spirit of wisdom and charity in order to save men. Yesterday afternoon, Detectives Chase and Raleigh, arrested a woman giving the name of Mrs. W. T. Jones, at the Rio Grande Western depot, but who is said to be the grass widow of Harry McLeod, the lock trick man. It is alleged that the woman is implicated in the robbery of a woman named Mrs. Greiveldinger, Saturday night at the Salfair depot. The victim staggered into the police station and declared that, while in company with a man and a voman, in a restaurant near the depot she was drugged and robbed of $7.50.
She said she drank a glass of beer and suddenly became dazed and sick.
She said the voman asked her to leave She said the voman asked her to leave the place, and that she remembered nothing after that for some time when she recovered and found herself lying near the depot. She at once reported the case to the police, and gave a de-scription of the man and woman.

Ou this description, the officers ar-rested the Jones woman, but were unable to find her male companion.

The police believe that the Jones woman is the same who stole Mrs. J. C. Snow's purse from a dry goods store on Friday afternoon. She is being held Friday afternoon. She is being pending a thorough investigation.
